Maryjane A. Wurth

Maryjane Wurth joined the American Hospital Association (AHA) in January 2016 as executive vice president and COO. In this capacity, Wurth is responsible for the overall strategic direction of the association including input into advocacy and policy agendas, clinical leadership and performance improvement, Health Research and Education Trust, member groups and engagement, and oversight of enterprise services. Additionally, Wurth serves as the president and CEO of Health Forum, AHA's business subsidiary offering data, education, media services and innovation partnerships.

Prior to the AHA, Wurth served as president and CEO of the Illinois Hospital Association (IHA). During her leadership of the IHA, Wurth led the merger of the IHA with the Chicago metro association, appointed its first chief health officer, founded its Institute for Innovations in Care and Quality and established IHA’s federal office in Washington, D.C.

Prior to joining IHA, Wurth had a 20-year career at the Healthcare Association of New York State (HANYS) as its chief operating officer and CEO of HANYS Solutions, its business subsidiary. Her early health care "roots" were in hospice care.
